

FREQUENCY

A three-day week is not a five-day week with two days missing. It is a different structure. Here it is, one page per frequency.

THE MATH NOBODY RUNS

You take a five-day split. You hit three of them. Every muscle now gets trained once every eight days instead of every four. You did not train less. You trained the wrong thing.

THREE PRINCIPLES

- 01 Count patterns, not days
Progress tracks how often a movement pattern gets loaded, not how often you enter the gym. Squat, hinge, push, pull, carry. Each one wants two exposures per week at minimum. Build the week backwards from that.
- 02 Every session stands alone
If Wednesday is the only pull session and Wednesday dies, you trained nothing for your back that week. Fewer days means more overlap, not more specialisation. The fewer days you have, the more full-body each session becomes.
- 03 Cut from the bottom, never the top
Short on time, tired, travelling: the main lift stays, the accessories go. Most people do the reverse because the main lift is the hard part. That is how eight weeks pass with nothing moving.

READING THE LOAD COLUMN

RPE is how hard the set felt out of 10. RPE 8 means you could have done two more reps with good form. Never grind the last rep of a main lift. If the bar speed drops hard, the set is over, whatever the number on the page says.

TWO DAYS

Two full-body sessions, 60 to 75 minutes. Both sessions cover every pattern. Nothing is specialised because nothing can afford to be missed. This is a maintain-and-slowly-build week, and it works far better than most people expect.

SESSION A

LOAD

Back squat	SQUAT	4 x 5 @ RPE 8
Bench press	PUSH	4 x 6 @ RPE 8
Chest supported row	PULL	4 x 8 @ RPE 8
Romanian deadlift	HINGE	3 x 8 @ RPE 7
Farmer carry	CARRY	3 x 40 m

Session B

48 TO 96 H LATER

Deadlift or trap bar	HINGE	4 x 4 @ RPE 8
Weighted pull-up or lat pulldown	PULL	4 x 6 @ RPE 8
Overhead press	PUSH	4 x 6 @ RPE 8
Bulgarian split squat	SQUAT	3 x 10 / side
Hanging leg raise	TRUNK	3 x 12

PROGRESSION

Add load when all sets hit the top of the rep range at or below the target RPE. Roughly every second or third week on main lifts. Do not add sets. Two days is a load-driven week, not a volume-driven one.

THREE DAYS

The most common answer and the one most often built wrong. Not a five-day split with two days deleted. Three sessions, each with one heavy pattern and full-body support. Every pattern still lands twice a week.

DAY 1 / SQUAT EMPHASIS

LOAD

Back squat	SQUAT	4 x 4 @ RPE 8
Romanian deadlift	HINGE	3 x 8 @ RPE 7
Incline dumbbell press	PUSH	3 x 10 @ RPE 8
Cable row	PULL	3 x 12 @ RPE 8

Day 2 / Push emphasis

MIN. 48 H LATER

Bench press	PUSH	4 x 4 @ RPE 8
Weighted pull-up	PULL	4 x 6 @ RPE 8
Bulgarian split squat	SQUAT	3 x 10 / side
Overhead press	PUSH	3 x 8 @ RPE 7

Day 3 / Hinge emphasis

MIN. 48 H LATER

Deadlift or trap bar	HINGE	4 x 3 @ RPE 8
Chest supported row	PULL	4 x 10 @ RPE 8
Dip or close-grip bench	PUSH	3 x 8 @ RPE 8
Loaded carry	CARRY	4 x 40 m

IF A DAY FALLS OUT

Do not stack two sessions into one and do not skip forward. Run the missed day next. The week shifts, the order does not. A three-day week that runs eleven times a month beats a perfect one that runs eight.

FOUR DAYS

Upper and lower, twice each. The second pass is not a repeat of the first. Heavy and low volume, then lighter and higher. Run them the same way and you collect fatigue without a second stimulus.

STRUCTURE

CHARACTER

Lower A	SQUAT LED	Heavy, 3 to 5 reps, RPE 8
Upper A	PUSH LED	Heavy, 4 to 6 reps, RPE 8
Lower B	HINGE LED	Volume, 8 to 12 reps, RPE 7
Upper B	PULL LED	Volume, 8 to 12 reps, RPE 7

FIVE DAYS

At five days the limiter is almost never motivation, it is recovery. Four lifting days plus one that is not a lifting day. If every session is hard, week six is where it stops.

CHARACTER

Lower A	SQUAT LED	Heavy
Upper A	PUSH LED	Heavy
Conditioning	AEROBIC	Zone 2, 40 to 60 min
Lower B	HINGE LED	Volume
Upper B	PULL LED	Volume

DELOAD, EVERY FREQUENCY

Every fifth or sixth week: same sessions, same exercises, two thirds of the sets, cap everything at RPE 6. It is not a week off. Skipping it is the single most common reason progress stops around week eight.

END OF NO. 01

ONE PAGE IS A START, NOT A PLAN

This gives you the structure. What it cannot do is look at your week. Which days actually hold, what your last twelve weeks looked like, where it stopped moving and why.

That part I do by hand, with six people at a time. Their week gets rebuilt every Monday based on what actually happened the week before. Not a program. A person.

Reply to the email this came with and tell me what your week looks like. I read every one.
